EFF REITERATES ITS CALL FOR AN INQUIRY INTO RAMAPHOSA SELLING OUT FREEDOM FIGHTERS

Thursday, 14 February, 2019

The EFF reiterates its call for a Judicial Commission of Inquiry into Ramaphosa selling out freedom fighters. In his explanation today, Ramaphosa has not disputed that he denounced liberation ideas under interrogation. By his admission, police wanted him to testify against Lekota and others; police would not ask him to testify unless he said something incriminating to police about his comrades.

The EFF will be taking legal advice on pursuing the appointment of a Judicial Commission of Inquiry. Ramaphosa is conflicted and completely emotional about the matter. Thus, an independent body must take the decision; we may have to get a court to force him to appoint a commission using the Chief Justice in the same way we did with Zuma.
