PREAMBLE

The Economic Freedom Fighters is a radical and militant Economic Emancipation Movement which brings together revolutionary, fearless, radical, and militant activists, worker's movements, non-governmental organisations, community-based organisations, lobby-groups under the need to pursue the struggle for economic emancipation.

The Economic Freedom Fighters is a radical, left, anti-capitalist and anti-imperialist movement with an internationalist outlook anchored by popular grassroots formations and struggles. Economic Freedom Fighters will be the vanguard of community and worker's struggles and will always be on the side of the people. The Economic Freedom Fighters will, with determination and consistency, associate with the protest movement in South Africa and will also join in struggles that defy unjust laws.

The Economic Freedom Fighters takes a lesson from the notion that "political power, without economic emancipation, is meaningless". The movement is inspired by ideals that promote and practice organic forms of political leadership, which appreciate that political leadership at whatever level is service, not an opportunity for self-enrichment and self-gratification.

The Economic Freedom Fighters subscribes to the Marxist-Leninist and Fanonian schools of thought on its analysis of the state, imperialism, class and race contradictions in every society. Through organic engagement and a constant relationship with the masses, the Economic Freedom Fighters provides clear and cogent alternatives to the post-colonial economic system, which in many countries perpetuated colonial domination and suppression.

The continent will be coloured in green to signify the land that must be restored to its people. From within the southern tip of the continent will be a black clenched fist signifying the unity in strength of the oppressed of the continent. The fist will hold a red spear signifying the defence of the African revolution mired by the blood of the fallen heroes and heroines of our liberation struggle. At the bottom of the fist shall be a shaft, representing the minerals of the earth, which shall be used for the benefit of all. Finally, at the northern tip of the continent shall be a gold star, representing the progressive internationalist character of our African revolution, international solidarity and the pursuit of total emancipation of the oppressed peoples of the world.

3. The basic programme of the EFF is the complete overthrow of the neo-liberal anti-black state as well as the bourgeoisie and all other exploiting classes, the establishment of the dictatorship of the people in place of the dictatorship of the bourgeoisie and the triumph of socialism over capitalism. The ultimate aim of the EFF is the realisation of socialism through people's power and the establishment of a state that responds to the needs of its people.
4. The EFF is anti-capitalist, anti-racism, anti-sexist and anti-imperialist in its world outlook and is driven by sound democratic socialist values where the leadership is accountable to the members who elected it.
5. The EFF is a vanguard mass organisation leading the revolutionary masses in the fight against the capitalist class enemy.

SECTION 4: AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

1. To capture political and state power through whatever revolutionary means necessary to transform the economy to benefit all, Africans in particular.

4. To participate in the global struggle for the complete eradication of imperialism, colonialism, racism and all other forms of oppression and discrimination.
5. To participate in, support and promote all struggles for the attainment of the complete independence and unity of an African state and, by extension, the African continent.

7. To oppose the oppression of women, children and all other-gendered people.
8. To oppose patriarchy, sexism, homophobia and any discriminatory practices that promote the oppression of anyone, women in particular.

SECTION 5: SEVEN NON-NEGOTIABLE CARDINAL PILLARS

At the centre of the struggle for economic emancipation are the following seven non-negotiable cardinal pillars:

1. Expropriation of South Africa's land without compensation for equal redistribution in use.
2. Nationalisation of mines, banks and other strategic sectors of the economy without compensation.
3. Building State and government capacity, which will lead to the abolishment of tenders.
4. Free quality education, healthcare, houses and sanitation.
5. Massive protected industrial development to create millions of sustainable jobs, including the introduction of minimum wages in order to close the wage gap between the rich and poor, close the apartheid wage gap and promote rapid career paths for Africans in the workplace.
6. Massive development of the African economy and advocating for a move from reconciliation to justice in the entire continent.

7. Open, accountable, corrupt-free government and society without fear of victimisation by the state defence force, police and other agencies.

These seven non-negotiable cardinal pillars constitute the core programme of the EFF and cannot be amended, and should guide all activists and structures everywhere.

SECTION 6: PRINCIPLES OF THE EFF

1. Elected and collective leadership

- (a) All leaders of the EFF are democratically and transparently elected in People's Assemblies and should always work as a collective.
- (b) Collective leadership means that all leaders of the EFF should carry the obligation to consult the collective before engaging in activities and programmes that have organisational consequences and must not act in silos.

2. Powers of the NPA

- (a) The NPA is the highest decision-making body of the EFF, and all programmes and resolutions adopted at the NPA guide the organisation until the next NPA.
- (b) The CCT, PPAs, PCTs, SRPAs, SRCTs, BPAs, BCTs, and all members must be guided by the resolutions of the NPA.
- (c) The CCT is the highest decision-making body in between NPAs.
- (d) The NPA is the only assembly that can amend and adopt the Constitution.

3. Democratic Centralism

- (a) Democratic Centralism refers to the practice of democratic consultation and engagements before decisions are adopted and once adopted, they are binding on all members and structures of the organisation. The key and non-negotiable themes under democratic centralism are:
 - i) The majority rules over the minority, and once the majority has taken a decision, there is no expression of minority reports and perspectives that contradict the adopted positions.
 - ii) Decisions of upper structures are binding on all lower structures and should be implemented and adhered to without any form of defiance.
 - iii) Once decisions are adopted, they are binding on all members and structures.

4. Mandates, accountability and reporting

Once members are mandated tasks, they must fulfil the mandate. Whoever is given a responsibility at all levels of the organisation and in deployments is obliged to account for and report on the mandated work. After every meeting, each member of the EFF participating in or belonging to the command team should have absolute clarity on what is expected from them over what period of time.

5. Constructive criticism and self-criticism

From time to time, members and structures of the EFF should engage in constructive criticism and self-criticism, meaning they should openly and honestly review the work they do and avoid all forms of boastfulness and self-glorification over minor achievements. The people's assemblies, CCT, PCTs, SRCTs, BCTs, deployed members and fighters should periodically review the work they are doing against their own set targets. They should always ask whether they have taken the correct decisions, and whether they have achieved what they intended to achieve within the time periods they decided on.

6. Discipline and hard work

(a) Discipline in a revolution is not a side issue; it is an essential ingredient and component of what the EFF seeks to achieve. Without discipline and hard work, all the objectives and aspirations of the EFF will not be achieved. Discipline means utmost adherence to organisational resolutions and programmes. Discipline means punctuality in fulfilling organisational mandates. Discipline means that members and leaders must be able to publicly own up to everything they do in private.

(b) Hard work means that in addition to fulfilling mandates, leaders are willing to go the extra mile and do constructive and organisational tasks that seek to improve the work of the organisation.

7. Selflessness, loyalty to the organisation and love for one another

(a) Selflessness means that members and leaders perform tasks and mandates without expecting financial benefits, promotions or recognition. Selflessness means members and leaders do not claim individual victory for collective work or for work; they did in service of the revolution. Selflessness means that instead of heaping individual praise and worship, members and leaders must always make the organisation shine.

(b) Loyalty to the organisation means that at all times, members and leaders will not keep quiet when the organisation is unfairly criticised and attacked in private and in public. Loyalty to the organisation means that members will remain active members even when removed from positions of responsibility or deployment. Loyalty means members of the EFF will not join in the opposing and opponent forces who unfairly criticise the organisation and its leadership.

- (c) Love for one another means that all members and leaders should always look after each other and should not amass privileges and wealth when other members of the organisation are living in poverty and suffering.

SECTION 7: MEMBERSHIP OF THE EFF

1. Any South African citizen, not limited to any worker, peasant, revolutionary element or employed person, who has reached the age of 18 and who accepts the Constitution of EFF or any person who comes from the African continent or in the diaspora, who joins a branch of the organisation and works actively in it, carrying out the organisation's decisions, observes its discipline and pays membership dues may apply to be a member of the EFF.

I voluntarily join the EFF without any motive for personal gain or material benefit and understand that I am not entitled to any position of deployment. I will participate in the life of the EFF to strive towards the total emancipation of South Africa, Africa and the oppressed of the world and will do so as a loyal, active and disciplined Economic Freedom Fighter.

I further declare to defend the proud and militant legacy of the fallen heroines and heroes. To work towards a South Africa that belongs to all who live in it. Defend the African revolutionary tradition against all forms of tendencies that promote hatred, division, underdevelopment, corruption and social discords. I vow to defend and selflessly pursue the realisation of the seven non-negotiable cardinal pillars as a primary political programme of the EFF contained in the Founding Manifesto.

I further commit to abide by the principle of democratic centralism, which is that the individual is subordinate to the organisation, that minority is subordinate to the majority, that the lower level is subordinate to the higher level, and that decisions of the upper structure are binding on the lower structure."

3. On acceptance, a member shall pay a joining fee determined by the CCT and renewable every two (2) years. If a member does not renew their membership, it shall cease to exist.

5. The EFF, through the CCT, retains the right to review any membership.
